

I support Title II and strong net neutrality. The current administration is attempting to make all Americans believe that all regulations are bad. But in many cases they are to protect US, the consumers. Anyone who believes that business and politicians will not make money from the deregulation of the internet is sadly mistaken. Protect our access to free and fair information, protect the internet!!